LMC Performing Arts stages cabaret night

BENTON HARBOR — The Lake Michigan College Performing Arts Department presents a Cabaret Night at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the South Lobby of the Lake Michigan College Mendel Center Mainstage, 2755 E. Napier Ave.

Cabaret, which originated in France in 1881, is experiencing a second renaissance in the United States as performers reinterpret old forms in both music and theater. Contemporary cabaret groups often feature a combination of original music, burlesque, and political and social satire in a nightclub setting, which will be replicated at LMC.

Tickets are $20, which includes an appetizer buffet. A cash bar will be available.

For more information, call 927-1221.

Morton House holds ghostly mystery tour

BENTON HARBOR — "Mystery on Morton Hill: A Ghostly Wodunnit," a murder mystery fundraiser, is being staged from 5:30-8 p.m. Saturday and 1-3 p.m. Sunday at The Morton House Museum, 501 Territorial Road.

Participants will go through the house gathering clues, and then try to solve the mystery. Prizes will be given to winners and light refreshments will be served.

Admission is $12 in advance or $15 at the door. Reservations are strongly recommended.

To reserve a time slot or for more information, call 876-7692, 325-5828 or visit www.mortonhousemuseum.org.

Tin Shop performs mystery dinner theater

BUCHANAN — The Tin Shop Theatre performs "You Have the Right to Remain Dead," its third annual mystery dinner theater production, at 6 p.m. Saturday at the Buchanan Senior Center, 810 Rynearson St.

The audience participation mystery comedy, written by Pat Cook, is a play within a play, which centers on Fat Daddy, his wife, Sweet Mama, and their scheming, conniving family.

An encore matinee lunch performance is scheduled for 1 p.m. March 30.

Tickets are $20 for Saturday and $10 for the March 30 matinee.
