

A look back

2014 in photos

Photos BY DON CAMPBELL • HP staff

Another year has come and gone, and among the thousands of images taken each year there are always some that never make it into print. So take a look at just a few of my favorite photographs that deserve a second look.

- 1. Members of the Watervliet High School Marching Band dress in their favorite Halloween costumes as they perform before the start of a district high school football game Oct. 31 at Watervliet High School.
- 2. Tulips are in full bloom May 7 at Andrews University in Berrien Springs.
- 3. Racers make their way through a mud pit April 12 during the Dirty Bird race at Southwestern Michigan College in Dowagiac. Hundreds of athletes competed in the 8-kilometer race that included a variety of military-style obstacles, hilly terrain and mud pits. Proceeds fund the Military Veterans' Scholarship at SMC.
- 4. Andre Isom Jr., 5, pretends to play a trumpet during a jazz workshop conducted by the Newport Festivals Foundations Inc. on March 25 at the Boys & Girls Club of Benton Harbor. Musicians with the Newport Now 60 World Tour stopped by to talk to children about the importance of music and music education in today's society.
- 5. Sunshine breaks through a grove of trees at St. Joseph's Riverview Park on Sept. 27.
